The LORDS Address, March 1.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, beg leave to return your Majesty our most humble Thanks for your gracious Condescension, in laying the Convention between your Majesty and the King of Spain, dated the 14th Day of January last, N. S. together with the separate Articles, before this House.

We think it our indispensable Duty, on this Occasion, to express our just Sense of your Royal Care of the true Interests of your People; and to acknowledge your Majesty's great Prudence, in bringing the Demands of your Subjects for their past Losses, which have been so long depending, to a final Adjustment by the said Convention; and procuring an express Stipulation for a speedy Payment; and in laying a Foundation for accomplishing the great and desirable Ends, of obtaining future Security, and preserving the Peace between the Two Nations.

We beg leave also to declare to your Majesty, our Confidence and Reliance on your Royal Wisdom, and steady Attention to the Honour of your Crown, and the Welfare of these Kingdoms, that in the Treaty to be concluded in pursuance of this Convention, proper Provisions will be made for Redress of the Grievances so justly complained of; and particularly, that the Freedom of Navigation and Commerce in the American Seas, to which your Majesty's Subjects are entitled by the Law of Nations, and by Virtue of the Treaties subsisting between the Two Crowns, will be so effectually secured, that they may enjoy, unmolested, their undoubted Right of navigating, and carrying on Trade and Commerce from one Part of your Majesty's Dominions to any other Part thereof, without being liable to be stopp'd, visited, or searched on the open Seas, or to any other Violation of Infraction of the said Treaties, the mutual Observance thereof, and a just Regard to the Privileges belonging to each other, being the only Means of maintaining a good Correspondence, and lasting Friendship between the two Nations.

Permit us at the same Time, in the most dutiful Manner, to express to your Majesty, our firm Dependence, that in the Treaty to be concluded in pursuance of the said Convention, the utmost Regard will be had to the Rights belonging to your Majesty's Crown and Subjects, in adjusting and settling the Limits of your Majesty's Dominions in America; and to give your Majesty the strongest Assurances, that in case your Majesty's just Expectations shall not be answered, this House will heartily and zealously concur in all such Measures, as shall be necessary to vindicate your Majesty's Honour, and to preserve to your Subjects the full Enjoyment of all those Rights, to which they are intitled by Treaty, and the Law of Nations.

His Majesty's most gracious Answer.

My LORDS,

I Thank you for this dutiful Address, and for the grateful Sense you express of my Care

Care of the true Interests of my People. You may depend upon it, That I have the Honour of my Crown, and the Welfare of my Kingdoms entirely at Heart; and that nothing shall be wanting on my Part, to secure to my Subjects the full Enjoyment of their Navigation, and Commerce, and their other just Rights.

LONDON, March 15.

They write from Amsterdam, that the Promotion of General Officers will in all Probability take Effect very soon, when the Prince of Orange will be constituted Lieutenant-General, with a Clause, that at the next Promotion his Highness shall be appointed General in Chief. 'Tis upon this Condition that the States of Friesland consented, in their last Assembly, to this Promotion. As the States of Groningen are now deliberating upon the same Affair, it's not doubted but that their Resolution will be conformable to that of the Province of Friesland, and that immediately after it shall be sent to the States General, the Promotion will be made: But it's said that a much greater Number will be advanced than was at first intended, that there may be no speedy Occasion for another Promotion.

They write from the Hague that the States General growing impatient with the various Reasons alleged by the Court of Spain for delaying to reply to the last Answer of their High Mightinesses, some Ministers of the Government have very lately desir'd the Marquis de St. Gilles to use his Interest with the Marquis de la Quadra to engage him to expedite such reply, to the end, that Endeavours might be used, without Delay, for determining in a substantial Manner all Differences between the two Nations upon Affairs relating to Commerce. As the Court of Madrid still strenuously maintains, that the Inhabitants of Curacao are notorious for carrying on a clandestine Trade upon the Coasts of the Spanish Dominions, and therefore, that Ships coming from thence ought to be visited, even at open Sea, it's foreseen that there will be yet great Contests before this Affair comes to a Determination.
